Farmers Market returns tomorrow

■ New for 2012 is a beer garden by 'Swabbie's On the River.' Returning this year is the market's low-trash ethic

You won't have to wait much longer.

After a successful inaugural season last year, the West Sacramento Farmers Market opens up again on tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. The market will continue Thursday evenings until dusk through mid-September, at 1271 West Capitol Avenue (across from city hall).

The market is organized by the West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

Is anything special planned for opening day?

"There will be a band brought by Swabbie's catering truck, and a beer garden set up by Swabbie's," said Lun So, director of marketing and communications for the chamber. The restaurant and its catering truck are famous for their seafood tacos.

"We'll try to have entertainment every week," he added. "Swabbie's will be out there the third Thursday of every month."

"We'll have a full market pad," So said.. Aside from regional growers of produce, meats and baked goods, the market will have a bunch of ready-to-eat food on hand:

"We'll have Wicked West Pizza & BBQ, the Eatery, Gold Rush Popcorn, and Addy's Paella," said So. A couple of other restaurants may be there as well.

Like last year, the market will aim for zero-waste – with eating utensils and other supplies either recyclable or compostable.

You can find more information about the market at "West Sacramento Farmers Market" on Facebook online.

On to round two, in Lodi

Jason Wullenwaber struck out 11 batters in Monday's first-round playoff game on his home field at River City High School.

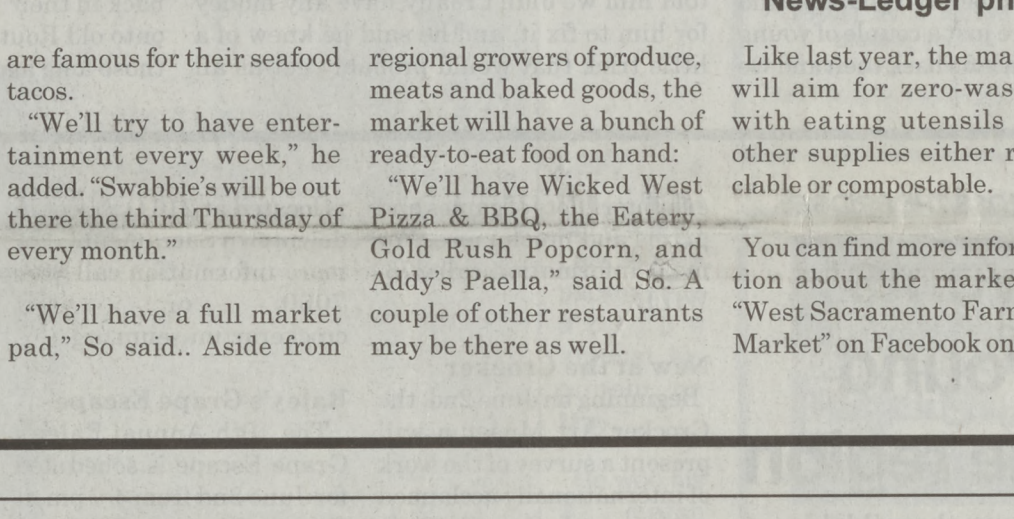
Dogs invited to 'bark for life'

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor



Mayor Christopher Cabaldon (near right, with blazer) accompanies dog walkers around Dave's Pumpkin Patch on May 5, in a fundraiser against cancer

It was a sunny, yet blustery, day on May 5 as about 70 dogs and their owners converged on Dave Vierra's pumpkin patch in Southport for West Sacramento's inaugural "Bark for Life" event.

This is the second year that West Sacramento is participating in a "Relay for Life" fundraiser for the American Cancer Society, but the first time for the dog-centric "Bark for Life" event.

"We had about 68 people who registered ahead of time, and another five or so in person, and we had over 70 dogs," said organizer Julie Huber. "My husband, Rory Huber, designed a commemorative T-shirt and we gave that out and an event program. The mayor (Christopher Cabaldon) came out and did a welcome speech."

Then came the dog walk, on a track around the farm property.

"Next year, if we do it again at Dave's, we're going to have both a short route and a longer route. The bigger dogs want something more than a short route!" said Huber.

The registration fee was $10, and a lot of participants also collected pledges for the "Relay for Life" cancer-fighting fund drive. The event is more poignant this year, said Huber, because the founder of Relay for Life, Dr. Gordy Klatt, has himself just been diagnosed with stomach cancer.

"We raised over $6,000," reported Huber.

The event featured vendors, a police dog demonstration by Officer Roger Kinney and "Zar," a visit from firefighters, and contests such as ""smallest dog" and "best costume."

On June 23-24, the local "Relay for Life" chapter follows up with a 24-hour walk-a-thon for teams of humans. The event was held its first year locally in 2011, at River City High, but it will move to the track at Our Lady of Grace School this year.

"For the Relay, you commit to raising $100," said Huber, who is a captain for one team. "If you have a team of 15 people, they expect your team to raise $1,500."

Teams keep someone walking the track at all times for 24 hours straight.

"The theory behind 'Relay' is that cancer never sleeps, so we don't sleep for 24 hours."

Last year's local "Relay for Life" event raised around $60,000. Other local events are held elsewhere around the country.

Sponsors of this month's "Bark for Life" event included host Dave Vierra as well as Wag Hotels

Award for Bridgeway

Principal Grace Chin

Bridgeway Island Elementary School was named a "Title I Academic Achievement Award" again this year by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Tom Torlakson. It's the second consecutive year for the award.

The honor goes to schools that meet performance standards "meeting the educational needs of students living at or below the poverty line," according to the Washington Unified School District. Over 6,000 of the 9,000 schools in California qualify, said the district in a press release.

To receive a Title I award, schools must demonstrate progress on student testing and the campuses' disadvantaged students must achieve at double the improvement goals set for them for two consecutive years.

Bridgeway has an API score of 873, and its subgroups of students have met their goals, said WUSD.

"Congratulations to our staff, students and their families for their commitment to excellence in student achievement," Principal Grace Chin was quoted in the press release.

Election observers

The News-Ledger has been invited by Yolo County Clerk/Recorder Freddie Oakley to appoint a representative to observe on the "Election Observer Panel" for the June 5 Presidential Primary.

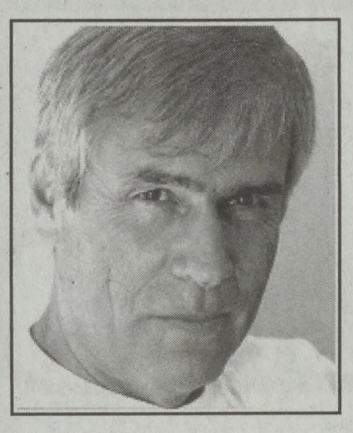
The observer can watch the opening of local "vote by mail" ballots, which begins on Friday, May 25, at 9 a.m.

If you're interested in observing, please send an email to steve@news-ledger.com. Include a few words about yourself and why you would like to observe the ballot counting process. Also, please let us know if you're interested in reporting the experience afterward with a short article.

Students are welcome to apply.

Route 66 in a '36 Chevy coupe: an epic road trip

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

As all of you know, another Mother's Day has just come and gone, and like everyone else, I spent some time visiting with my mother this past weekend, and my daughter also had her over to her house for one of my mother's favorite meals, a yummy steak sandwich from West Sacramento's popular Club Pheasant.

My mother is 91 years old now, has more energy than I do, and lives in her own little apartment in Sacramento, which she has called home since the passing of my father seven years ago. Until then, West Sacramento had been their home for most of their 63 years of marriage, having moved here shortly after the end of World War II. With the help of the G.I. Bill, they bought a little tract home on Michigan Boulevard and my father went to work for the Southern Pacific Railroad, where he toiled away for the next 39 years. Anyway, while my mother and I were chatting the other night, it dawned on me that when children reflect back on the lives of their parents, the time frame that comes into play usually begins with their own birth, and more or less covers their years of growing up in their parents' house. In other words, we really do think of our parents "as parents", and often forget that they were young once, too, with hopes and dreams and a whole life still in front of them long before they ever got around to getting married and raising a family.

In my case, I know most of the basic stuff about my mother's youth, that she grew up in a little town in Southern Missouri and that she and her family lived through the most difficult days/years of the Great Depression; that she met my father in grade school and that he was in her life for almost as long as she can remember; that as a young girl she worked in a beauty shop to earn extra money and was always very responsible; and that she adored her father, who passed away much too young from a burst appendix before I ever got to meet him. But other than that, my mother's life before I became a part of it isn't all that well-known to me, and I thought I would start doing a little something about that this Mother's Day.

"So, Mom," I asked her last weekend, "how did you and Dad get all the way out to California from Missouri after you were married?"

"We drove in a car, silly," she answered matter-of-factly.

"I know that, Mom," I said, "but why don't you tell me all about it?"

"Why?" she asked suspiciously. "And will what I tell you end up in that newspaper column of yours?"

"Maybe," I admitted.

"Well," she said with a smile, "it actually is a pretty funny story."

"How so?"

"Well, you have to remember that your dad and I were just a couple of young green kids back then and we didn't have a clue about what traveling halfway across the country might be like. Plus I had just had my appendix out and the doctor wasn't too happy about me bouncing around in a car all the way to California. But your dad had found work out there so we jumped into an old 1936 Chevy coupe and off we went. And you have to remember that this all happened back in the winter of 1941 and since they didn't have fancy weather forecasts back then, we ended up driving through snow and on icy roads most of the way."

"So, did you stay in nice hotels and use the trip as kind of a honeymoon?"

"Are you kidding? We had less than $75 to make it all the way to California – more like $50 if I remember right – and most of that was going to have to be spent on gas, so we stayed in the cheapest places we could find. And for food we had brought some of my mother's fried chicken with us, along with a pound of bacon, a loaf of bread, and a dozen eggs. And I went and dropped the darn eggs and busted all of them the first night we were unloading the car. So we had nothing but toast and some bacon for breakfast all the way to California. And how we made it through those high mountain passes in all that bad weather I'll never know. Plus when the windshield wipers stopped working I about froze to death hanging my head out of the window to tell your dad what was ahead of us."

When I started laughing, my mother said, "Well, if you think that is funny, you should have seen what happened to us when we finally got through the mountains and all that bad weather and out into the desert just before we got to California."

"So what happened then?" I asked with interest.

"Well, the radiator sprung a leak and started spewing out smoke and water and of course we didn't have any money to stop and have the darn thing repaired. But it got so bad we finally had to find a gas station and ask for help. After this really nice man looked at it and showed us the problem, we told him we didn't really have any money for him to fix it, and he said he knew of a little trick that would probably get us all the way to Sacramento before the radiator completely blew up."

'We told him we didn't really have any money for him to fix it, and he said he knew of a little trick that would probably get us all the way to Sacramento before the radiator completely blew up.'

"A little trick?"

"Yeah, and what he did was go get a big old bar of lye soap and then he started shaving it all into the radiator until he had the whole thing filled up with soap shavings and water."

"You're kidding?"

"Nope, and sure enough, once we started rolling along again, I guess that soap somehow filled in the hole in the radiator and just like he said, we made it all the way to Sacramento."

"That is a funny story," I said.

"But that's not the funny part!"

"There's more?" I asked my mother, returning her smile.

"The funny part," she explained with the kind of warm, happy expression on her face that only comes from recalling a cherished memory, "was that all the way from at least Bakersfield to Sacramento our car kept blowing bubbles out from underneath the hood and everyone who passed us – coming or going – ended up waving and laughing at us. We looked like we were on the Lawrence Welk show with all those bubbles coming out of our car."

"Now that is a funny story!" I said.

"Oh, what a trip that was," said my mother, obviously wishing she was 21 years old again, had her whole life with my father still ahead of her, and that they could jump back in their 1936 Chevy coupe, motor out onto old Route 66, and travel every one of those long ago miles all over again.

RCHS tennis makes semi-finals, falls to Escalon

From River City High School

After getting past Argonaut 6 to 3 in the quarterfinals, the River City High School tennis team was defeated by Escalon 6 to 3 in the semifinals of the Sac-Joaquin Section Division III team playoffs last week.

Against Argonaut in the Elite Eight contest, RC split the four singles matches, getting victories from Jai London, 6-2,6-0 at #1 girls, and Michael Lee 6-1,6-1 at #2 boys. The host Raiders then took four of the five doubles contests. On the girls side, Christine Maltez and Sarah Yang won a marathon match at #1, 7-6(4),5-7,6-2, while Avneet Singh and Lina Vang won handily, 6-4,6-2 at #2. Terry Vang teamed with Zoi Saetern to win #1 boys doubles 6-2,6-1, and Mary Neverov and Phillip Dinh cruised 6-0,6-2 in mixed.

In the semifinal loss at Escalon, the Raiders swept the girls doubles and also won in mixed, but the host Cougars were too strong in singles and boys doubles. Maltez and Neverov won 3-6,7-5,6-2 at #1 girls doubles and Singh and Lina Vang won again at #2, 6-2,6-4. In mixed doubles, Dinh partnered with Lily He for a 6-3,6-4 victory.

RC finishes the 2012 season with a record of 21 wins and just 2 losses, both to Escalon. The tennis team was the undefeated Sierra Valley Conference Champion with a perfect 12 and 0 mark. This was the team's 16th league championship in the past 17 years, and the 18th tennis title in RC's history.

After that, police responded to a Bryte Avenue address in West Sacramento twice when that subject reportedly showed up and made threats connected to the fight. Both times, he was gone when they arrived.

But then a police officer spotted a vehicle matching the description of the suspect's: a black Toyota with rental car plates and no license plates.

Police pulled him over. A 25-year old Carmichael man was alone in the car, but an assisting officer found a Star 9 mm handgun "in plain view in the back seat," with six rounds in the magazine and one in the chamber. The gun's serial number had been removed. The man was arrested.

entertaining. For those who have not yet been introduced to Beyonce the Giant Metal Chicken, that tale alone is worth the cover price.

But beneath the humor, Lawson is unafraid to reveal the less-appealing aspects of her psyche. Her willingness to discuss her lifelong struggles with anxiety disorder and depression are brave in a culture that often stigmatizes mental illness, and highs and lows in her life are presented with equal weight and candor.

Ironically, you could say that the moral of "Let's Pretend This Never Happened" is the opposite of its title: Those moments you long to forget tend to be the ones that make you who you are.

Submission of Bids: All proposals must be submitted not later than the time prescribed. Bids are required for the entire work described herein. The bidder is wholly responsible to see that his bid is submitted at the time and place designated for the opening of bids. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered. Any bid may be withdrawn prior to the scheduled time for opening bids.

Bid Guarantee: Each bid must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento. DBE: The City of West Sacramento Department of Public Works hereby affirms that in any contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement, disadvantaged business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation.

Wage Rates: Bidders are hereby notified that the California Department of Industrial Relations and United States Department of Labor, per the Davis-Bacon Act, has determined the general prevailing rate of wages for each craft, classification, or type of worker needed to execute the work. It shall be mandatory for the Contractor and any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to laborers and workmen employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Pursuant to Section 1773 of the Labor Code, the general prevailing wage rates in the county, or counties, in which the work is to be done have been determined by the Director of the California Department of Industrial Relations. These wages are set forth in the General Prevailing Wage Rates for this project, available at City of West Sacramento Department Public located at:
1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, California 95691 and available from the California Department of Industrial Relations' Internet web site at http://www.dir.ca.gov/DLSR/PWD. The Federal minimum wage rates for this project as predetermined by the United States Secretary of Labor are set forth in the Bid documents may be examined at the offices described above where project plans, special provisions, and bid forms may be seen. Addenda to modify the Federal minimum wage rates, if necessary, will be issued to holders of Bid documents. Future effective general prevailing wage rates, which have been predetermined and are on file with the California Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in the general prevailing wage rates.

Attention is directed to the Federal minimum wage rate requirements in these Bid documents. If there is a difference between the minimum wage rates predetermined by the Secretary of Labor and the general prevailing wage rates determined by the Director of the California Department of Industrial Relations for similar classifications of labor, the Contractor and subcontractors shall pay not less than the higher wage rate. The Department will not accept lower State wage rates not specifically included in the Federal minimum wage determinations. This includes "helper" (or other classifications based on hours of experience) or any other classification not appearing in the Federal wage determinations. Where Federal wage determinations do not contain the State wage rate determination otherwise available for use by the Contractor and subcontractors, the Contractor and subcontractors shall pay not less than the Federal minimum wage rate, which most closely approximates the duties of the employees in question.

Award: The award shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the specified requirements. The award of Contract will be made by the West Sacramento City Council, and the Contractor shall execute the Contract within ten (10) days after he has received the Contract from the City. The City reserves the right to waive any irregularity in the proposals. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of sixty (60) days after the opening of bids.

Rejection of Bids: The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Any bid not conforming to the intent and purpose of the Contract Documents may be rejected. The City reserves the right to make all awards in the best interest of the City.

Disqualification of Bidder: If there is a reason to believe that collusion exists among any bidders, none of the bids of the participants in such collusion will be considered and the City may likewise elect to reject all bids received.

Relief of Bidder: Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) calendar days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred.

Bid rigging activities can be reported Mondays through Fridays, between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, Telephone No. 1-800-424-9071. Anyone with knowledge of possible bid rigging, bidder collusion, or other fraudulent activities should use the "hotline" to report these activities. The "hotline" is part of the DOT's continuing effort to identify and investigate highway construction contract fraud and abuse and is operated under the direction of the DOT Inspector General. All information will be treated confidentially and caller anonymity will be respected.
The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to determine which proposal is, in its judgment, the lowest responsive bid of a responsible bidder and which proposal should be accepted in the best interests of the City.

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS
BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

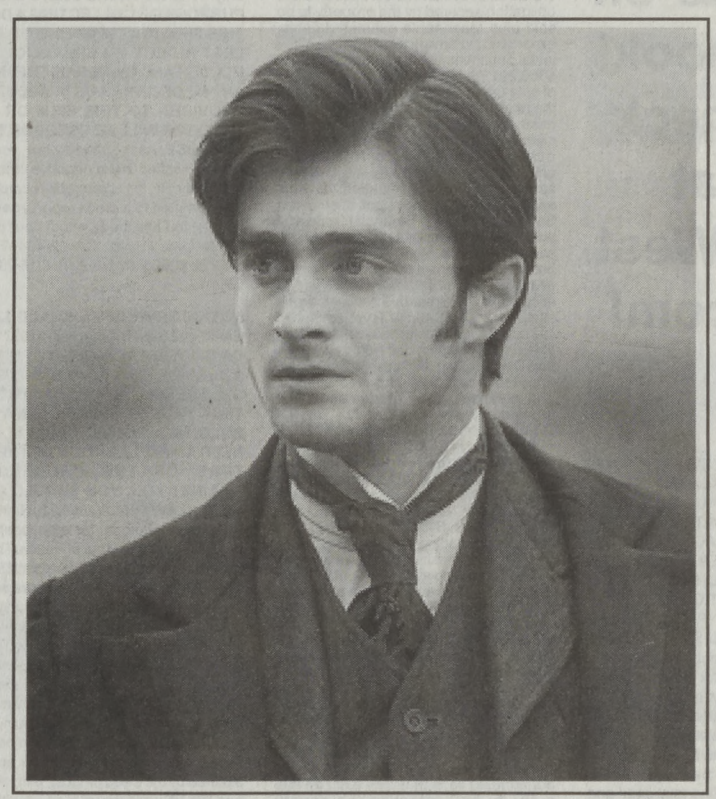
PICKS OF THE WEEK

"The Woman in Black" (PG-13) -- In a misty corner of England, a grieving man must sort through paperwork in clearly the most haunted house in the village. This is the kind of chiller that takes its time, relies on tried-and-true techniques, and builds an atmosphere of fear and uncertainty. Lawyer Arthur Kipps (Daniel Radcliffe) must sort through the estate of a small town's recently deceased crazy lady. When Arthur starts seeing a woman in black and hearing voices, the villagers have nothing to say to him.

This is Radcliffe's first leading role without a magic wand, and he does well enough to prove that he can stay alive post-Potter. He pulls it off as the grief and anxiety-stricken man trapped in a 1960s-style scary movie.

"This Means War" (PG-13) -- Chris Pine and Tom Hardy play two CIA agents who are super-cool, deadly, handsome and super best bros for life. When they both fall for Reese Witherspoon, they decide to put their invaluable skills to work sabotaging each other's dates. It's a silly plot pushed to its most-Hollywood extent -- lowbrow humor and action sequences in a romantic comedy that's light on the romance.

If you can't handle the cheese-factor in the film, it can cause physical discomfort with its lack of chemistry and low-hanging quips. However, if you have an itch to see a movie that moves along at a good pace and features secret agents shooting each other in the groin with air rifles, "This Means War" could save the evening.



DANIEL RADCLIFFE in 'The Woman in Black'

"Red Tails" (PG-13) -- The Tuskegee Airmen have a proud place in American history, and "Red Tails" tells the story like it was written for a B-movie. The Airmen became the first African-American pilots in U.S. armed forces during World War II, and one of the most decorated units of the war. Somehow, this comes across as boring and generic in "Red Tails," a movie so loaded with corny speeches that you would think it was running for student body president.

"The Secret World of Arrietty" (G) -- This Japanese animated feature is the kind of family entertainment you wish you could have known as a rugrat. Arrietty is a 14-year-old girl, and one of a secret race of tiny people who live in the cracks and recesses of the human world. Arrietty gets discovered by Shawn, a normal-size human boy, and a secret friendship forms. The animation is top-notch. The characters, colors, action scenes -- all of it just looks amazing. The film is a beautiful, gentle story with enough splendor and juice to keep you pulled in.

"Let's Pretend This Never Happened"
by Jenny Lawson
(Amy Einhorn Books, $25.99)
Reviewed by Ealish Waddell

Fans of Jenny Lawson's online alter-ego The Bloggess are already familiar with her unconventional sense of humor, and in this lively new memoir, she tries to explain how she got that way. Raised in a "violently rural" Texas town, many of the most unforgettable moments of Lawson's early life are furnished by her unpredictable dad, a taxidermist, animal rescuer and armadillo-racing champion.

In a series of cringingly hilarious vignettes, Lawson lets us in on what it's like inside a deer, the challenges of being the only Goth girl in a high-school full of 4-Hers, and exactly how traumatic it is to get your arm stuck in the ladyparts of a cow. We learn the precise difference between Jesus and a zombie, why you can't trust a pug with chicken, and how to get a spider monkey out of the walls. (Pumas are involved.) Rambling and exuberant, Lawson's memoir is like the paper equivalent of shooting the breeze with your wittiest girlfriend over a pitcher or four of margaritas. With chapter titles like "And Then I Snuck a Dead Cuban Alligator on an Airplane" and "Just to Clarify: We Don't Sleep With Goats," you can bet that the stories are going to be pretty

The Kitchen Diva BY Angela Shelf Medearis

Wok This Way!

If you're searching for the perfect graduation or bridal gift, wok this way! You can purchase a wok (or large, heavy-bottomed skillet) and use it as a gift container. Fill it with a beautiful pair of chopsticks, curry and five-spice mixes, packaged udon noodles, rice vinegar, coconut milk, fish sauce, roasted red chili paste, sesame oil and wooden stir-fry utensils. Thread a ribbon through the handles of the wok or around the skillet handle, tie it in a bow and your present will contain the basic ingredients needed to prepare the perfect stir-fry! You can enclose my recipe for Wok-Fried Salmon and Vegetables on a pretty card, and use it to make a quick, easy and delicious meal for yourself!

Stir-Frying Tips:
--Prep all the veggies in advance in similar-sized pieces for even cooking;
--Vegetables should be rinsed and drained ahead of time;
--If using a non-stick wok, pre-heat on medium-high to high heat for at least a minute before adding oil;
--Drizzle the oil down the sides of the wok so that it coats both the sides and the bottom of the wok. The oil heats faster this way;
--When adding sauce to vegetables and/or meat, form a "well" in the middle by pushing the ingredients up the sides of the wok. Add the sauce in the middle and stir to thicken before combining with the other ingredients.

WOK-FRIED SALMON AND VEGETABLES

For the Sauce:
2 tablespoons organic rice vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar, honey or stevia
1 tablespoon grated ginger root
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons hoisin sauce
1/2 teaspoon fish sauce
1 to 2 teaspoons roasted red chili paste, to taste

For the Stir-Fry:
2 tablespoons peanut or canola oil
1 medium yellow onion, peeled and chopped
2 cups purple or green broccoli florets
2 medium carrots, sliced in ribbons
3 bunches baby bok choy, rinsed and sliced in quarters
6 green onions, cut in half, roots removed and discarded
2 cups chopped purple cabbage
1/4 pound salmon fillet
2 teaspoons toasted sesame oil

1. In small bowl, combine rice vinegar, sugar, ginger root, cornstarch, hoisin and fish sauce, and red chili paste. Mix well and set aside to allow flavors to combine.

2. In large wok (or skillet), heat oil over high heat. Add in onion, broccoli and carrots. Stir-fry, stirring constantly, for 3Ð4 minutes or until vegetables begin to soften. Add bok choy, green onions and the cabbage, stirring constantly. Immediately place salmon fillet on top of vegetables. Reduce heat to medium, cover wok or skillet and cook for 4Ð5 minutes or until salmon flakes when tested with fork. Flake salmon and stir into vegetables.

3. Make a well in the center of the wok or skillet. Stir the vinegar mixture and add it into the wok or skillet. Turn heat to medium-high and stir-fry for 2Ð3 minutes until the sauce bubbles and thickens. Drizzle with the sesame oil. Serve immediately over hot, cooked udon noodles or rice. Serves 4.

If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale.
